Manager commentary**

- » Three critical connected factors drove markets in Q1: economic activity across the developed world surprised on the upside; inflation proved to be more persistent; and labour markets remained tight. Bonds responded to the likelihood of rates staying higher for longer with yields up across the maturity curve. Equity investors, on the other hand, were buoyed by the resilience of economic activity and were prepared to look through the delays in interest rate reductions.
- » While the US has led market performance for a long period, and has been making new all-time highs this year, other developed markets have also pushed to new highs, including several in Europe and, after a 34 year wait, Japan. The UK market, which has struggled over the past year, responded to a sharper than expected fall in inflation and to improving economic data, and was the best performing major market in March in GBP terms.
- » Developed markets, measured by the MSCI World index, returned 3.2% over the month, with the US also returning 3.2%. Emerging markets rose 2.5% in local terms. Bond markets returned 0.6% in March, as measured by the ICE BofA Global Broad Market index, with US Treasuries returning 0.7%.
- » We are encouraged by the broadening out of the equity market recently, which perhaps signals a healthy change in leadership, and we remain confident that rates in the US, UK and Europe will be cut during the second half of the year, providing a strong foundation for further gains in markets. But we are mindful that most equity markets have risen sharply since October 2023, discounting at least some of the more positive environment ahead and driving valuations higher. There is a risk of complacency creeping in - around inflation, a soft landing, high fiscal spending and debt sustainability in the US and elsewhere, geopolitics, which have been bypassed so far this year but have shown few signs of improvement, and election risks, notably in the US. We continue to remain constructive for risk assets but are adopting a patient stance before adding to either equities or duration in government bonds, while taking opportunities in selective, shorter duration parts of the credit markets, where yields have again become more attractive following the moves higher this year.

† The TERs are the percentages of the net asset value of the class of the Financial Product incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the Financial Product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. A current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. The TER to 29.12.23 is based on data for the period from 31.12.22 to 29.12.23. Cost ratios are calculated using historical actual and/or estimated data and are provided solely as an indication/guide as to the annual expenses/costs that could be incurred. These ratios do not represent any current/actual charges or fees.

Risk warnings and Important Information. Collective investments are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated on a total return basis, after deduction of all fees and commissions and in US dollar terms. Forward pricing is used.

The Fund invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. This could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund. Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds, the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested. The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the funds will achieve their stated objectives. The Fund will contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of an investor's investment and the income arising from it will therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

Foreign securities may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

No borrowing will be undertaken by the Fund except for the purpose of meeting short term liquidity requirements. Borrowings will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund. For such purpose, the securities of the Fund may be pledged. No scrip borrowing will be allowed. The Fund is not permitted to enter into any form of borrowing or loan arrangement with other cells of the Company nor other collective investment schemes of the Manager.

While derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes, the risk remains that the relevant instrument may not necessarily fully correlate to the investments in the Fund and accordingly not fully reflect changes in the value of the investment, giving rise to potential net losses.

Forward contracts are neither traded on exchanges nor standardised. Principals dealing in these markets are also not required to make markets in the currencies they trade, with the result that these markets may experience periods of illiquidity. Banks and dealers will normally act as principals and usually each transaction is negotiated on an individual basis.

The Manager has the right to close the Fund to new investors, in order to manage it more efficiently, in accordance with its mandate.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment. Investors are reminded that any forecasts and/or commentary included in this MDD are not guaranteed to occur, and merely reflect the interpretation of the public information and propriety research available to the Investment Manager at a particular point in time.
