NAV to NAV figures have been used for the performance calculations. The performance is calculated for the Fund. The individual investor performance may differ, as a result of various factors, including the actual investment date. Investment performance calculations are available for verification upon request. Annualised returns are period returns re-scaled to a period of 1 year. This allows investors to compare returns of different assets that they have owned for different lengths of time. ¹ Please refer to the fund supplement and scheme particulars for a detailed description of fees and fund facts.

² Global Cash is expressed in USD and is composed of 50% ICE LIBOR 3M USD; 25% ICE LIBOR 3M EUR; 10% ICE LIBOR 3M GBP; 15% ICE LIBOR 3M JPY. Prior to April 2019 the performance of the fund on this document was compared against a benchmark which comprised 100% MSCI AC World.

⁶ Current asset allocation figures reflect the strategy classification of the collective investment schemes (or similar schemes) held by the Fund and do not look through to the underlying holdings of such schemes.

■ Market commentary

Markets continued to rally in the final month of what has been an extraordinary year, spurred on by optimism around the vaccine rollout and a last-minute Brexit trade deal. However, coronavirus cases rose sharply in much of the world, especially Europe, triggering renewed restrictions and fuelling fears of further economic damage to come in the short term.

In classic EU style, the Brexit negotiations came down to the wire, but in the event Prime Minister Johnson confounded the doomsayers by delivering a trade deal free of tariffs and quotas while restoring sovereignty and taking the UK out of the jurisdiction of the European Court of Justice.

Stock markets again delivered strong monthly gains, with the key US equity market rising to all-time highs. While risks remain, particularly around the effectiveness of vaccines, the deep uncertainties which beset 2020 have lifted substantially as we enter the new year.

Emerging markets returned 7.4% in local terms. Meanwhile developed markets, measured by the MSCI World index, returned 4.2%, led by Asia Pacific ex Japan, with gains of 6.6%. The UK and US returned 3.2% and 3.8% respectively.

Bond markets returned 1.2% in December, as measured by the Bank of America Merrill Lynch Global Broad Market index, with US investment grade corporate bonds returning 0.4% compared with -0.3% from Treasuries and +1.9% for US high yield bonds.

With the substantial reduction in uncertainty delivered by the vaccine news and Brexit deal, the prospects for 2021, both in terms of a strong economic recovery and further progress in equity markets, have improved significantly. However, our optimism should be tempered by certain risks and uncertainties. The roll-out and efficacy of the vaccines; the huge public debt overhang; longer term inflationary concerns; all point to the likelihood of bumps along the way as we navigate through what we hope to be the final stages of the pandemic. As ever, true portfolio diversification will be the best way to mitigate these risks and enhance returns, and most importantly it will be vital to stay invested; the highly promising prospects for 2021 should reward investors and we see setbacks in the weeks ahead as a good buying opportunity.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Collective investments are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated on a total return basis, after deduction of all fees and commissions and in US dollar terms. Forward pricing is used.

The Fund invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. This could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund.

Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds, the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.

The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the funds will achieve their stated objectives.

The Fund will contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of an investor's investment and the income arising from it will therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

Foreign securities may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

No borrowing will be undertaken by the Fund except for the purpose of meeting short term liquidity requirements. Borrowings will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund. For such purpose, the securities of the Fund may be pledged. No scrip borrowing will be allowed. The Cell is not permitted to enter into any form of borrowing or loan arrangement with other cells of the Company nor other collective investment schemes of the Manager.

While derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes, the risk remains that the relevant instrument may not necessarily fully correlate to the investments in the Fund and accordingly not fully reflect changes in the value of the investment, giving rise to potential net losses.

Forward contracts are neither traded on exchanges nor standardised. Principals dealing in these markets are also not required to make markets in the currencies they trade, with the result that these markets may experience periods of illiquidity. Banks and dealers will normally act as principals and usually each transaction is negotiated on an individual basis.

The Manager has the right to close the Fund to new investors, in order to manage it more efficiently, in accordance with its mandate.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.

Investors are reminded that any forecasts and/or commentary included in this MDD are not guaranteed to occur, and merely reflect the interpretation of the public information and propriety research available to the Investment Manager at a particular point in time.
